Ever thought about...

Anniversaries?

Of course you have! When I sat down to write this, I'd just got in from buying a card for a couple celebrating their 65th wedding anniversary. 65 years is a long time (longer than I've been alive – just!), but I remember a time (and it doesn't seem very long ago) when I thought that any couple celebrating their 25th anniversary must be ancient. Now, as Chris & I approach 40 years, I feel sad that my parents barely had 28 years before Mum died – no time at all! We all celebrate – or commemorate – different anniversaries. Birthdays are an obvious example – we all have one, whether we choose to celebrate the passing of another year, drown our sorrows or try to ignore it. And there are few things worse than forgetting someone else's. I vividly remember Mum's spectacular sulk when Dad forgot her birthday – 3 weeks later, he bought her a present for the anniversary of their engagement, something they never usually remembered! We celebrate the anniversaries of our own and other people's weddings – of significant events in our lives (I can claim to have 'met' the two loves of my life on the same date, April 11th, but five years apart. I'm not sure that Chris enjoys being lumped together with Leeds United!) – of events on a local, national and world stage. Some anniversaries are happy, some sad, some a mixture of the two. I always felt sorry for my Aunt Beth – her birthday, 26th January, was also the anniversary of the deaths of her father and youngest sister. No wonder she had mixed feelings.

Monthly letter from Jean, the Reader...

This month, Emmanuel Church celebrates two anniversaries – both on the 19th, but six years apart. On 19th October 1895, the foundation stone was laid (it's at the foot of the pillar immediately beyond the organ) and building commenced soon after. Although the bulk of the building was finished by late 1897 and the church was consecrated in April 1898, due to a lack of funds (£22,000 had already been spent on the building, a massive amount for the time), the tower was incomplete and only contained one bell. Finally, thanks to the generosity of one individual, the remaining £4,000 was given, the tower and its seven other bells were dedicated for use on 19th October 1901 (the dedication stone is on the chapel wall, above the small window over the cenotaph). So it's happy birthday / anniversary, Emmanuel – twice over!

Whatever they are, anniversaries give us an opportunity to stop and think – to take stock - to remember the past, to give thanks for happy memories and to look forward to the future. They can be times of great joy, but they can also be times of regret, as we recall missed opportunities, failed relationships, lapsed friendships, harsh words, unnecessary arguments and divisions – times of anger and bitterness at wounds which the passage of time just can't heal – times of pain, when we recall things we're ashamed of - times of sorrow, when we wish we could turn the clock back and share just one more day with folk we love and miss - times of laughter, when we share memories of when we were young and foolish – and, above all, times of thanksgiving. As the years go past, we realise (or should realise) that we have so much to thank God for – anniversaries offer a time to focus on that, particularly if it's a 'special' anniversary or a 'special' birthday. So, let's cherish our anniversaries, whatever they are – birthdays, weddings, the first time we went somewhere special, an event or meeting which changed our lives – and remember to say a big 'thank you' to God. Jean

Together we fall

I was born a few weeks after the Wall Street Crash, 90 years ago this month. The American economy, so dominant in world trade, seemed to collapse overnight. Banks went bust, and then many businesses. Unemployment followed, and so did genuine poverty in American cities.

Needless to say, I was totally unaware of all of this at the time, but by the time I was eight or nine I had become aware that what happened in New York affected us all. My mother took me to see the 'hunger marches' from Jarrow, coming to London to plead for help for starving British families. It was an early lesson I have never forgotten, and very relevant now. Like it or not, we have a worldwide economy. If one suffers, eventually we all do.

Strangely enough the 'hungry thirties' were replaced by the war-time forties. The US and UK economies were revived by the demands of war and rationing, at least, ensuring that what food there was would be shared fairly.

But the lesson remains: if one suffers, all suffer. We are, like it or not, a worldwide family.

ALL DAY WITH GOD

Brother Lawrence (1614-1691) Felt intimately close to God as he humbly scrubbed pots and pans in the monastery kitchen. Certainly Brother Lawrence practiced specific times of devotional prayer. But what he found more life-transforming was prayer during the workday. In his devotional classic Practicing the Presence of God, he says,

"It's a great delusion to think our times of prayer ought to differ from other times. We are as strictly obliged to cleave to God by action in the time of action as by prayer in the season of prayer."

In short, he advocated that we "pray without ceasing" (1 Thess. 5:17).

That's a helpful reminder, because sometimes we tend to compartmentalise our lives. Perhaps we pray only during church worship, small group Bible Study, family devotions, and personal quiet times. But what about during our work day? To pray on the job does not mean we have to fall on our knees with clasped hands and pray aloud. But it does mean that work decisions and relationships can be brought to God throughout the day. Whatever we're doing, God wants to be a part of it. When prayer enters every aspect of our lives, who knows that God might do for His glory! - Dennis Fisher

Bishops issue open letter on Brexit

A group of Church of England bishops, including The Rt Revd Paul Bayes, Bishop of Liverpool, has issued an open letter on the prospect of a 'no-deal' Brexit and the need for national reconciliation, notwithstanding the potential prorogation of Parliament. The full text is as follows:

The Archbishop of Canterbury has conditionally agreed to chair a Citizens Forum in Coventry and, without prejudice for any particular outcome, we support this move to have all voices in the current Brexit debate heard.

However, we also have particular concerns about the potential cost of a No Deal Brexit to those least resilient to economic shocks.

As bishops with pastoral responsibilities in communities across urban and rural England, we respond to the call by Jesus to tell the truth and defend the poor. We also recognise that our obligations go beyond England and impact on relations with the wider UK and our neighbours in the EU.

Exiting the EU without an agreement is likely to have a massive impact on all our people and the Government is rightly preparing for this outcome. The Government believes that leaving the EU on 31 October is essential to restoring trust and confidence.

It is unlikely, however, that leaving without an agreement, regardless of consequences, will lead to reconciliation or peace in a fractured country. "Getting Brexit done" will not happen on exit day, and we have to be transparent about the years of work ahead of us in bringing the country together for a better future. We also need to be frank about the potential costs.

Our main social and political priority must be to leave well, paying particular attention to the impact of political decisions on those most vulnerable. We hold different views about Brexit and how our country should proceed from here. However, although we agree that respecting a public vote is essential, democracy and committed debate do not end after the counting of votes. Our concern for the common good leads us to express concern about a number of matters. Our conviction is that good governance can only ever be based on the confidence of the governed, and that includes minorities whose voice is not as loud as others.

Seeing the evidence of division in every part of England, we are deeply concerned about:

Political polarisation and language that appears to sanction hate crime: the reframing of the language of political discourse is urgent, especially given the abuse and threats levelled at MPs doing their job.

The ease with which lies can be told and misrepresentation encouraged: leaders must be honest about the costs of political choices, especially for those most vulnerable.

The levels of fear, uncertainty and marginalisation in society, much of which lies behind the vote for Brexit, but will not be addressed by Brexit: poor people, EU citizens in the UK and UK citizens in Europe must be listened to and respected.

The Irish border is not a mere political totem and peace in Ireland is not a ball to be kicked by the English: respect for the concerns on both sides of the border is essential.

The sovereignty of Parliament is not just an empty term, it is based on institutions to be honoured and respected: our democracy is endangered by cavalier disregard for these.

Attention must be paid not only to the Union, but also to the meaning of Englishness.

Churches serve communities of every shape, size and complexion. We continue to serve, regardless of political persuasion. We invite politicians to pay attention with us to the concerns we register above and encourage a recovery of civil debate and reconciliation.

Emmanuel Bowling Club

Sadly the bowling season is coming to an end for this year and will close on Saturday 5 October.

There will be afternoon play followed by a Jacob's plate tea, which all members enjoy.

2019 has been an excellent season with good weather - only the odd day rained off. All members played some excellent matches, with three very enjoyable days out playing bowls.

So a very big THANK YOU to all members for a happy season of play.

With God's blessing we will all enjoy another good season next year - we will all look forward to that.

William Tyndale, Bible translator and Reformation martyr

This month is the 500th anniversary of the beginning of the Reformation, and so a good time to pay tribute to an outstanding English scholar, translator and martyr of the Reformation.

William Tyndale (c. 1494 - 6th October 1536) was born near Gloucester, and studied at Oxford and Cambridge. He could speak seven languages, and was proficient in ancient Hebrew and Greek. As a priest, his abilities would have taken him a long way, but by 1523 Tyndale's only desire was to translate the Bible, so that English men and women could read it for themselves. It became his life's passion.

For Tyndale had rediscovered a vital doctrine that the Church had been ignoring: that of justification by faith. He had found it when reading Erasmus's Greek edition of the New Testament. In fact, his life's work was well summed up in some words of his mentor, Erasmus: "Christ desires His mysteries to be published abroad as widely as possible. I would that [the Gospels and the epistles of Paul] were translated into all languages, of all Christian people, and that they might be read and known."

Tyndale's translation was the first Bible to be published in English, the first to draw directly from Hebrew and Greek texts, and the first English translation to take advantage of the printing press.

It was to cost him his life. For Tyndale's work was seen as a direct challenge to the power of both the Roman Catholic Church and the laws of England in maintaining the Church's position.

When the authorities had tried to stop his translation, Tyndale fled to Hamburg, Wittenberg, Cologne, and finally to the Lutheran city of Worms. It was there, in 1525, his New Testament emerged. It was quickly smuggled into England, and King Henry VIII, Cardinal Wolsey, and others, were furious.

Tyndale moved on to Antwerp, where for nine more years he continued his work. Then in May 1535 he was betrayed, arrested, and jailed in a castle near Brussels. Tied to the stake for strangulation and burning, his dying prayer was that the King of England's eyes would be opened. Sure enough, two years later King Henry authorised the Great Bible for the Church of England, which relied largely on Tyndale's work.

Not only that, but in 1611, the 54 scholars who produced the King James Bible drew very heavily from Tyndale. Even today we honour him: in 2002, Tyndale was placed at number 26 in the BBC's poll of 100 Greatest Britons.
